

Do YOU want to help design the future of professional development?
Do YOU want to improve your instruction and your technology skills?
Do YOU want to make a difference in student achievement?

ONLINE Professional Development for West Virginia Educators

e-Learning West Virginia will provide these opportunities for educators to become involved:

- Online PD Course Facilitators- Training and stipends
- Online PD Course Authors- Training and stipends
- Online PD Course—NO cost courses. Graduate credit (PD) from Marshall University and West Virginia University is available for a fee

The e-Learning West Virginia initiative is funded through a federal Ready to Teach grant and a multi-state collaboration between nine state education agencies and associated public broadcasting stations. The West Virginia Department of Education partners with West Virginia Public Broadcasting.

If you are interested in West Virginia e-Learning opportunities, please contact Donna Landin by e-mail dlandin@access.k12.wv.us or (304) 558-7842.

The contents of this pamphlet were developed under a grant from the US Department of Education. However, the contents do not necessarily represent the Federal Government. One hundred percent of the total costs are financed with Federal money.